BACKGROUND

The Department of Water and Sanitation (DWS) coordinates the South African Youth Water Prize (SAYWP). The SAYWP is science & technology based project. The competition begins at provincial level and the proceeds to the national level. The national winner represents South Africa in the Stockholm Junior Water Prize (SJWP) in Stockholm, Sweden to compete with learners from 30 countries annually.

OBJECTIVES OF SAYWP

- To promote the protection of South Africa's natural resources;
- To encourage and empower the youth to participate actively in integrated and community based water resource management;
- To expose and enhance the interest of the youth to science and technology;
- To motivate the youth to pursue water and, sanitation management careers;
- To provide opportunities for the youth to interact with their peers, in order share knowledge and experiences related to water and the environment, nationally and internationally.

CATEGORIES

AWARENESS CATEGORY: is a research project on the problem, take action, recommend the solutions

INVENTION CATEGORY: is a research project on the problem, take action, develop a technical model or invention that can be used to solve the problem.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE

High school learners (grade 9-10) or from similar institutions

- individuals or group of learners not more than 3, members can be from the same or different schools
 - Not older than 20 years
- Who are innovative and passionate about water and the environment,
- Who have a special interest in the sciences and technology

WHAT SHOULD LEARNERS DO

Identify problems related to water and sanitation in their school or community e.g. water wastage, pollution of water sources (wells, rivers etc) water borne diseases, invasive alien plants etc. Take action (initiate a project, do research and recommend solutions that will solve the problem).

SUPPORT TO LEARNERS

Upon receipt of registration form from the learners the DWS and its partners will:

- Support the learners in the development of their projects
- Provide learners with information which can be used for reference
- There is a face book page
