Department:
Water and Sanitation
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

TERMS OF REFERENCE FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF A PROFESSIONAL SERVICE PROVIDER TO CONDUCT A DUE DILIGENCE STUDY (UPDATING THE 2012 STUDY), DEVELOP A BUSINESS CASE AND PROVIDE IMPLEMENTATION SUPPORT ON RECONFIGURATION OF WATER BOARDS

1. Background

Water Boards are established in terms of the provisions of Chapter 6 of the water Services Act as a body corporate with the powers of a natural person of full capacity. They are subject to the provisions of the Public Finance Management Act (PFMA) and are classified as a schedule 3B entity (National Government Business Enterprise), which requires them to be self-funding. Their primary activity is to provide water services (bulk water and sanitation) to other water services institutions within their approved service area in terms of Section 32(b) of the Act. WB's are required to give priority to their primary functions which must be performed through written contracts with their customers.

In 2007, the then Minister initiated the process of reviewing the institutional framework in the water sector. This Institutional Realignment and Reform project (IRR) was intended to move the water sector forward to achieve the envisaged benefits as reflected in in the 2003 Strategic Framework for Water Services.

The guiding principles for the IRR where:

- “Wall to wall” coverage of the country by Water Sector Institutions (a similar approach to what was envisaged in 1994);
- Reduction of the number of Institutions to ensure economies of scale and improved regulation;
- Ensure clear accountability by addressing the span of control and relationships;
- Strengthen Institutional Capacity in the water value chain;
- Maximise service delivery;
- Impact of water pricing for socio economic growth; and
- Improved revenue collection.

The IRR project recommended the creation of regional water utilities with an expanded set of functions and within an appropriate regulatory and financial framework. It was further recommended that:

- an approach of differentiated establishment of regional water utilities be followed as it is not considered necessary to establish regional water utilities in all areas (wall-to-wall), but it is rather appropriate to establish them on a case-by-case basis as and where necessary based on a needs analysis specific to the regions concerned;
- “Regional” water and sanitation infrastructure be classified in such a way that this will be a direct responsibility of the Minister and will not be under local government control; and
- Regional water infrastructure to include regional water resource and water services infrastructure (including both potable and non-potable water systems).

The proposed primary activities of regional water utilities were to manage regional infrastructure including financing, project development and ongoing operations and maintenance. It was also envisaged that the utilities could also engage in secondary and tertiary activities. The secondary activities being defined as the development and management of local infrastructure which would, under normal circumstances, be the responsibility of WSA's, in the case of potable water, and water user associations (WUA's), in the case of non-potable water. The tertiary activities would include interventions to build capacity in low capacity municipalities, ad hoc interventions in support of WSAs, services to CMAs to assist them with sampling, testing, meter reading, billing etc and Services to DWS.

The outcomes of the IRR project recommended the consolidation of the twelve (12) existing water boards to nine (9). This consolidation included the disestablishment of Botshelo, Pelladrift and Bushbuckridge Water Boards. While the IRR recommended that ultimately the number of Water Boards should be consolidated to four (3) water boards, operating as Regional Water Utilities, the decision in this regard was held in abeyance.

Currently, as the legislation stands, it is not possible to establish an entity called Regional Water Utility (RWUs). Establishing the RWUs would require an amendment to the Water Services Act. However, legislative amendment is unnecessary since there are currently Water Boards in place that can perform the functions envisaged of RWUs.

The financial sustainability of some water boards is in dire stress due to liquidity and debt issues threatening their financial position. This has huge implications on credit ratings and borrowing capability of these entities. As at 30 November 2021, municipalities owed water boards over R14.5 billion of which R9.6 billion was over 120 days and R2.4 billion current. This has exacerbated the operating deficit in the sector which needs to be addressed. Water boards operating in area with low economic activity and with a high proportion of poor people may not be financially viable due to the financial challenges of client municipalities.

In November 2021, the Minister approved process for the reconfiguration of water boards. The purpose of reconfiguration of water boards is to:

- improve institutional in-efficiencies and rationalise the number of institutions in the water sector to ensure economies of scale thereby reducing transactional costs of institutional arrangements with the entire water value chain.
- Maintain financial viability and enhance ability to raise capital from the market for infrastructure projects.
- Maximizing service delivery and improving wall-to-wall coverage of areas unserved with bulk water supply.
- Provide an opportunity for transformation and improved governance, and
- Enable water boards to better support Water Services Authorities (WSAs)

The reconfiguration of water boards will not address the underlying problem of the poor billing and revenue collection and high-water losses of the municipalities in the area. This is a national problem and will be a priority focus area for the Branch: Water Services in future, as part of its development of a more effective intervention strategy.

The terms of reference seek to conduct the due diligence report (update the 2012 study) and develop the business case to address current capability and challenges of existing WBs to raise their own capital and revenue and recommendations to address financial viability.

2. Summary of three Water Boards

The three water boards are diverse in relation to both their origins and to their areas of operation and service delivery.

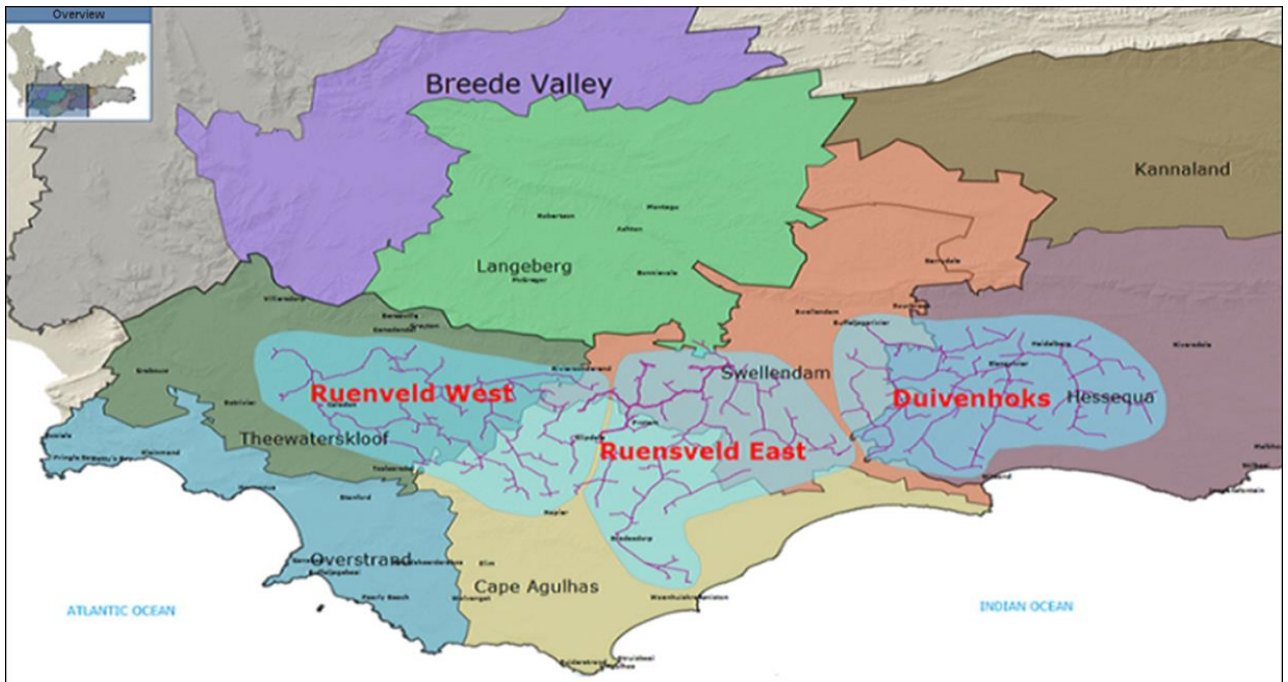

2.1 Amatola Water

Amatola area of operation covers a tract of the central Eastern Cape Province, encompassing most of the Amathole and Chris Hani District Municipalities together with lesser portions of the Joe Gqabi and Sarah Baartman Districts.

2.2 Overberg Water

Overberg Water distributes water to the surrounding and rural areas of Cape Agulhas, Theewaterskloof and Swellendam. It has three (3) water treatment schemes with twenty-two (22) reservoirs which are located across the Overberg region.

2.3 Lepelle Northern Water

Lepelle Northern Water provides bulk water and related services to the Municipal areas of Middle Letaba, which serves both Vhembe and Mopani District Municipalities, Olifants River Water development Project which serves Polokwane Municipality, Sekhukhune District and Capricorn District Municipality and Mogalakwena Local Municipality in Polokwane.

In summary, water boards serve an economic mandate by providing infrastructure of regional significance to client with strong economic base. However, some water boards have their origins in a social mandate, operating in rural areas of little economic activity or serving clients who struggle to run financially viable retail operations. Water boards have also experienced significant challenges relating to governance, collection of revenue from municipalities, general performance issues and inability to guarantee security of services.

It is also important to note that within a specific municipality served by a water board the water board seldom provides all the bulk water with the municipality retaining responsibility for some of the bulk. There are concerns about the efficiency of this arrangement with two bulk suppliers serving one settlement.

3. PROJECT OBJECTIVES

The primary objective of this project is to update a Due Diligence Study (updating the 2012 study) and update a Business Case for the reconfiguration of Water Boards. The PSP will provide detailed analysis, strategic direction, comprehensive advice (technical, operational, financial, institutional, and legal) and support to inform and direct the complex process of the reconfiguration of the Water Boards. This would also include Project Management of all the relevant phases of the project and implementation support.

4.3 Phase 2 Development of Business Case and transitional plan (Duration of 2 months).

Business Case and Transitional plan: The third phase of the project will be directed at the development of the business case for reconfiguration of Water Boards The following should be outlined in detail as Annexures:

- Opportunities for leveraging economies of scale.
- Asset condition ownership and future requirements (this is critical in instances where it is envisaged water board may take over DWS regional schemes/assets).
- Diversity of services provided or required (Water resource, bulk water, bulk industrial wastewater, bulk domestic wastewater).
- Regional demographics, urban/rural mix, social and economic conditions, cross subsidisation etc.
- Financial arrangements (Pricing Strategy, financial projections, financial results, asset transfer).
- Institutional viability and including the financial viability/sustainability of the options, the capacity to raise debt.

- The viability of the retail water services provision functions at municipal level as this will impact on water board viability.
- Human resources management (Transformation imperatives, human resource, and transformation imperatives). Capacity and skills availability etc. in the sector/entities. Transfer of staff and labour related complexities.
