EUTROPHICATION MANAGEMENT STRATEGY FOR SOUTH AFRICA (EMSSA)

For effective management of eutrophication, the government has adopted an adaptive and systems-based management approach, in alliance with the private sector and civil society. It is expected that all identified role-players will include the actions of EMSSA and its accompanying Strategy into Practice report in their Annual Performance Plans as part of their operation/core or support functions.

This will improve resource water quality, prevent pollution and ecological degradation, support ecologically sustainable economic and social development and allow informed use of the nation's water resources.
