

HACK4 WATER

OPEN GOVERNMENT SANITATION INNOVATION & TECHNOLOGY

CHALLENGE

We need your big idea, solution, community initiative, school project, home solution, inspiring water story, app or online tool, invention, cool water-related song or dance or something we haven't thought of...

The HACK FOR WATER AND SANITATION will bring together ideas and solutions from ordinary people, communities, government and the private sector on how to address our water and sanitation needs.

Entries to the challenge will be accepted in the following categories:

- Individuals or groups of individuals: individuals, teams, communities or NGOs with majority of members over 25 years of age
- Youth or Schools: pupils or youth under the age of 25
- Enterprise category: established small, medium and large companies
- Researcher category: individuals and research teams based at universities and research institutes
- Investigative Journalism: Journalists reporting on water issues or individuals with innovative and interactive storytelling methods

How to enter:

- Shoot a video clip explaining your water hack
- Send us the link via the website form at www.hack4water.org.za or email it to hack4water@dws.gov.za

The closing date for this challenge is 20 April 2016.
